Old Business:

Levy Lid Lift: Chair Bob Buchholz shared a revised timeline for levy lid activities and planning.

Tool Lending Library: Guest speaker, Nikyta Palmisani from the Tool Lending Library Group gave a presentation to the board about the progress the Tool group has made. The idea for a tool lending library came about 2 ½ years ago during the library’s strategic planning community session. The group has consisted of volunteers who have been working on details to move this idea forward. The three main coordination areas the group has focused on are real estate, working details, and liabilities and legalities. They are also considering their options to become an LLC or a state run non-profit. Several surveys and questionnaire’s from community members show that people are interested in woodworking tools, kitchen tools, and gardening tools. Other planning includes the possibility of a mobile option instead of a fixed location. And the beginning their library in 3 phases: Phase 1: Top 20 tools, Phase 2: A small shed, and Phase 3: a permanent home. The group is also considering finance models and its partnership with the Lopez Island Library. The library has several resources which could help the group with its lending structure, including an existing equipment lending process and a database.

New Business:

WA State Auditor Exit Interview: The library completed an accountability audit for the years 2016, 2017, and 2018. A telephone conference was set up with the WA State Auditor’s Office and the Board of Trustees. The Auditor’s shared several areas the Library could improve to their financial processes.

- The auditor’s recommended that our contracts for janitorial services, landscaping services, and maintenance and repair services include more detail, such as rates to be paid and the level of service to be provided.
- The auditor’s recommended that the library establish written policies for procurement of goods and services.
- The final recommendation suggested the library create written policies for establishing bids thresholds and procedures when bids for public works projects.

Costs of strategic plan: Lou and the library staff have been working on an assessment of the strategic plans key areas. They are examining how much these areas cost with a focus on staff time, programs, and other expenditures.

Request to move money for new computers: This item was postponed until the budget adjustment is completed.

Bid Policy: Based on the auditor’s suggestions, the board will be looking at creating a policy for accepting bids for capital improvements. Further discussion will continue at the next meeting.
